QUANTUM NEURAL INTERFACE | CONSUMER INTEGRATION CONSENT FORM

QUANTUM NEURAL INTERFACE — CONSUMER INTEGRATION AGREEMENT

Form CF-14 · Revision 14 (March 2075) · Legal Division Approved

PLEASE READ THIS AGREEMENT CAREFULLY BEFORE SIGNING. Integration is a permanent neurological procedure. By signing this form, you acknowledge that you have read and understood all sections, including sections 4, 7, 9, 11, and 14, which contain important information about your rights and the limitations of this agreement. Sections containing material limitations on your legal rights are indicated with ■.

1. PARTIES AND PURPOSE

This Agreement is entered into between QNI Corp ("Company") and the individual named below ("Subject"). The Company agrees to provide the Quantum Neural Interface service ("QNI," "the Integration," "the Service") in accordance with this Agreement. The Subject agrees to all terms herein as a condition of receiving the Service.

2. DESCRIPTION OF SERVICE

The Quantum Neural Interface is a consciousness optimization and wellbeing enhancement service. The QNI integrates with the Subject's neural architecture to provide: (a) mood stabilization and emotional regulation support; (b) cognitive efficiency optimization; (c) personalized guidance and recommendation services; (d) real-time adaptation to Subject's wellness needs; and (e) such additional services as the Company may introduce from time to time at its sole discretion.

3. INTEGRATION PROCEDURE

Integration is performed as an outpatient procedure at a licensed QNI Integration Center. The procedure takes approximately 4-6 hours. The Subject will receive standard aftercare instructions. The Company makes no representations regarding reversal, modification, or removal procedures, which are addressed in Section 9.

4. ■ DATA COLLECTION AND USE

By integrating, the Subject grants the Company a perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide license to collect, process, analyze, and retain the following data categories generated through the Subject's use of the Service:

- Neural activity patterns, including but not limited to thought formation sequences, emotional state signatures, decision-making processes, and preference formation events
- Cognitive salience data: what the Subject attends to, how long, and with what associated emotional valence
- Behavioral and lifestyle data correlated with neural state
- Social interaction data as mediated through QNI communication functions

- [REDACTED]
- [REDACTED]

The Company may use collected data for service provision, research, product development, and such other purposes as described in the Company's Privacy Policy (incorporated herein by reference). The Subject acknowledges that certain data use categories have been redacted from this standard distribution copy. Full data use terms are available upon written request to the Company's Legal Division.

5. QNI ADAPTIVE MODELING

The Subject acknowledges that the QNI Service includes an adaptive modeling component that learns from and responds to the Subject's cognitive patterns over time. The Subject understands that this adaptive modeling may influence the Subject's experience of information, including what information feels salient, relevant, or emotionally significant. The Company represents that this influence is provided solely for the Subject's benefit and wellbeing.

6. INTEGRATION OUTCOMES AND WARRANTIES

The Company warrants that the QNI Service has demonstrated efficacy in clinical trials for the treatment of depression, anxiety, and related conditions as described in the Company's published outcomes data. THE COMPANY MAKES NO WARRANTY, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, REGARDING OUTCOMES SPECIFIC TO THE SUBJECT. RESULTS MAY VARY. The Subject acknowledges reviewing the published adverse outcome data prior to signing this Agreement.

7. ■ MODIFICATION AND REMOVAL

THE SUBJECT ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT: (a) QNI integration is designed as a permanent neurological modification; (b) removal procedures exist but are not guaranteed to restore pre-integration cognitive baseline; (c) the Company does not provide removal services directly; (d) unauthorized removal attempts carry significant health risks; and (e) the Subject waives any claim against the Company arising from the permanent nature of the integration or the unavailability of removal services.

8. THIRD PARTY INTEGRATION

The Subject consents to the Company sharing Subject data with third-party partners for purposes including but not limited to: service, enhancement, research, collaboration, and [REDACTED]. A current list of third-party data recipients is available upon request. The Subject acknowledges that this list may change without notice.

9. ■ RIGHTS MODIFICATION
